Gen. Grant and the Presidency.
In commenting upon the possibility of Gen. Grant, in a certain contingency, accepting the nomination for the Presidency, the Milwankee Seafuse says:
We know that Gen. Grant has peremptorily refused, in advance, any offer of the Presidency. He replied to those who were seaking to learn his views on the subject, that, while the war lasted no earthly inducement could take him voluniarily from his present position, and that even should the war come to a speedy conclusion he would be the most ungrateful of men to run against Mr. Lincoln.

This declaration comes to us through the most trustworthy sources, and affords to us conclusive proof that Gen. Grant has fully decided not to enter the political arena. And those who know him, know that he is not up to waver when he has made up his mind one way or other.

We have reselved information from a thoroughly authentic source and one which sets the whole matter at rest, thowing that the above is true in every respect.

FIRST DISPATCH,
WASHINGTON, June 80.—Scoretary Chas

SECOND DISPATOR.

The Senate is in Executive session over the nomination of David Tod, of Ohio, as Secretary of the Treasury, in place of Mr. Chasters of the Treasury of the Tre tary of the Treasury, in place of Mr. Chase, resigned.

At 11 o'clock this morning Mr. Chase was in conference with the Ways and Means Committee; but there were abundant evidences last evening that the vacation of his office had been determined on. Whesher this deterministion was hung upon a contingency, like the action of the Ways and Means Committee, or the vote of the Finance Committee, is not at present known. It is, however, known that Mr. Chase has been restire of his connection with the Administration, and uneasy in his seat as a Cabinet officer ever since Frank Blair's unpunished assentits upon his official and personal reparation on the floor of the House.

It is also known that the selfach struggles for Mr. Chao's place in the New York Sub-Treasury, to which Mr. Chase felt bound to oppose himself, and in which it is said he received no nid, added to the vexations that made his office burdensome.

Rumers will be telegraphed from here that was the occasion of Mr. Chase's resignation, of which his highes at the hands of the Blaft's was the cause. Mr. Chase wanted Maus el B. Field appointed in New York. The Iresident wished the office for Mr. Hillhouse, ex-Gov. Mongan's candidate. Mr. Chase desired the President to send a meage to Congress embou, sing his views upon the necessity of enhancing the rates of taxation in the bill on its passage, so as to raise eighty-five millions more money. This the President declined to do.

In the heat of his resentment at both refusals, Mr. Chase tendered by resignation and withdrew. He could not have known that I was scepted until after the measure was sent to the Senate this noon, nonlanting Gov. Tod, for he was, during the forence, in conference with the Finance Committee, and in conversation with the members of the Ways and Means Committee, fully and laborlously attending to the duties of his office in its relations with Congress during the pas-

Letter from James Buchanan.

The Lockport (N. Y.) Journal publishes the following letter written by James Buchanan. It was found at the house of John Tyler, near Charles City Court House, and is only another link in the chain of facts showing the disposition of the heary traitor:

WASHINGTON, FEBRUAY, 1881.

My DEAN Sim: I found it impossible to prevent two or three companies of the Federal troops from joining in the procession to day with the volunteers of the District without giving serious offense to the tens of thousands of people who have assembled to witness the parade.

The day is the anniversary of Washington's birth, a festive occasion throughout the land, and it has been particularly marked by the House of Representatives.

The troops everywhere cise join such processions in honor of the birthday of the Father of our Country, and it would be hard to assign a good reason why they should be excluded from the privilege in the capital founded by himself. They are here simply as a pose considerate to all the civil authorities in case of need. Besides, the programme was published in the National Indicagner of this morning without my personal knowledge—the War Department baving considered the cicbustion of the national anniversary by the military arm of the Government as a insider of course.

From your friend, very respectfully, President Tyler.

First Disparent.

Resent, Starnox, June 22.
A serious accident happened this morning, about half-past one a.m., to an emigrant train from quebec. The train stopped at $1. Hilling, about one mile from the bridgeacross the Richeljus River, where there is a swing bridge. The swing bridge was opened about a quarter past one, to let a number of barges, in tow of a steamer, pass. The proper signals were past one, to let a number of barges, in tow of a steamer, pass. The proper signals were turned before the bridge was opened, and the red light was bursing. The man in charge of the bridge, when he heard the whistle, waved his read hand isme. The standing orders are that all bridge the bridge. This was disregarded, and the Bridge in the bridge of the standing orders are that all brids must come to a full stop before reaching the bridge. This was disregarded, and the Bridge in the bridge was disregarded, and the Bridge of men are at work clearing way 0.2 wyreck. At 8 a m. 35 bodies were recovered, and between 30 and 40 taken one houre or less injured.

SECOND DISPATOR.

See, Harana, June 29-5, 15 a. m.

The train which went over the bridge at this place this abording, consisting of eleven cars and an engine, was preclulated into the water. There were ES emigrants on board, all Germans. At this hour thirty four bodies cars and an engine, was precipitated into the water. There were $5 emigrants on board, all Germans. At this hour thirty four bodies have been recovered, and between thirty and forty have been taken out, more or loss badly wounded.

The train from Quebee has been delayed in consequence of the abcident, at Hyacanthe. During the last three hours the debris has been safficiently cleared away to allow the bridge to be closed, and the ordinary traffic to be resumed. There is one car which has not yet been sufficiently reached to allow the dead to be taken from it. Only two living wave rescued from this car. Their shricks on being taken out were fearful. Several of the wonded are in a dying state. The depth of the water where the socident occurred is about the fiel. The train was precipitated by the stern of a barge passing at the time, which lies partly submerged. The conductor, Thomas Flant, is killed; the fireman, Nicholas Flynn, supposed to be killed. Wm. from Moutreal, bringing Coroner Jones. Mr. Pommswitel, Solicitor of the Grand Trunk, and a large number of working to clear away the debris in order to get out the dead bodies and recover the goods of the emigrants. The utmost diligence has been exercised, but much yet remains to be done. The cars lie mostly a pile of fragments, crashed together, resting on the barge which was fortnastely passing through at the moment of the accident. Had the cars failen into the open water, to the number of deaths, caused by being crashed in the semaining of the cars, must have been added a van number of drowned. All the barges in tow of the steamer had passed except two. Those on the barge actually passing through the bridge saw the train coming, knew what must happen, and jumping on the barge belind saved Lasir lives. The loopnostive lies submerged in the water out of sight. The appearance presented by the wreck it is ladjossible to describe. The train consisted of two or three second class cars, and the remainder box cars fitted up with benches for the emigrants. The two or three last cars, when we arrived at the access of the accident, about swren o'clock, remained on the top of the pile comparatively unbroken; the rest were a confused broker heap, some lying on their sides, others upaid down, broken into and crushed by these above them, while in some cars a car fay flattened almost like a paneak, between two others. The whoclass lay confusedly scattered here and there through the heap.
